Chapter One

How I Wrote Over 40 Books and Over 400 Articles Within 3 Years

My Top 14 Writing Principles

Time will not allow me to share all the principles I used to write over 350 inspired articles and over 40 books within three years. Writing numerous books and articles within a specific season is possible if you have the “seed.”

I wrote a short book in 2019 titled how to write and publish books. I laid down some of the principles I used in writing, publishing, and marketing books in that book.

Request a free copy or read it free on amazon kindle unlimited for more wisdom keys. I shared two important messages on youtube. Check them out on my channel because I have shared some principles I used in writing my books and articles.

I have added the transcript of the message I shared on youtube in this book. If you know people who desire or love to write but do not know how to start, share this book with them so they can learn some practical wisdom keys, and principles in writing and publishing.

I will briefly share the top fourteen (14) principles I used in writing and publishing my books. This book will prepare you to become an excellent and faster writer. The book you are reading is not a set of theories; they are my principles, skills, and experiences.

It doesn't matter the season you find yourself and the book you write. Applying the wisdom keys in this book will make you an excellent and faster writer. Although this short book is for Christian writers, you can apply some of the principles irrespective of your writing genre. They will work for you. Below are my top fourteen (14) principles of writing and publishing.

1. You must be born again if you want to write inspired books and articles.

Writing Christian books and articles differ from other books because Christian books carry some level of invisible power. To receive inspiration as a writer, you must be born of the Spirit, the Word, and Water.

You must be born again, and being born again means repenting and confessing Christ Jesus as the Saviour and Lord of your life. When you repent from your sins and confess Christ Jesus as the Saviour and Lord of your life, the Holy Spirit makes your heart His home.

When the Holy Spirit controls your life, you will not struggle to write inspired books to change the sinner and build the Christian believer. By God's grace, I'm born again. The Holy Spirit lives in me, and He helps me to write. Are you born again? Check out my series of articles for more profound revelations.

2. Build a consistent prayer and fasting life.

Almost all the books I wrote came through prayer. When I pray in the Spirit (tongues), the ideas flow into my soul. If you want to write inspired Christian books, build a consistent prayer and fasting life because it will help you connect with the voice and gifts of the Holy Spirit.

You will be weak in the Spirit without prayer. Prayerless Christian believers find it challenging to walk and live in the Spirit. Build your spiritual muscles in the Lord by prayer, and the Holy Spirit will upload ideas into your soul. The Holy Spirit will not disappoint you when you pray in tongues.

If you are called to write, He will supply ideas to your soul. The ideas will start flowing into your inner man when you begin praying in tongues. When the ideas come to you, write them down. Check out my free book, how to hear the voice of the Holy Spirit, and a series of articles for more profound revelations.

3. Consistently feed on the Word of God.

If you want to write inspired Christian books, have time for the Holy Scriptures. When I read the Oracles of truth, the Holy Spirit gives me ideas to write on a particular topic.

I have bible study tools on my electronic devices that help me get scriptures to write my books. I use a power Bible cd, e-sword, the Word, and other bible study tools on my electronic devices.

I have also bought bible study books with references, concordances, and several helping tools. They help me write my books and understand the Holy Bible. There are several ways of studying the Word of God. You can study the Word of God, book by book, topically, and chapter by chapter.

Check out my article on how to study the Word of God for more wisdom keys. I have laid down several methods on how you can feed on the Word of God. Find a quiet place where no one or nothing can distract you and study the Word of God. Get some notes beside you and write the ideas down while studying God's Word. You will be surprised that the Holy Spirit will inspire you to write during your quiet time.

4. Follow the process.

If you read my book, how to write and publish books, listened to my messages on youtube, or read the transcript, you will understand that I began writing in a little way.

I started writing on WhatsApp groups. I wrote and submitted quotes to websites; then, I started writing Christian tracts. I was using my printed tracts for evangelism.

I gave it free when someone surrendered his life to Christ Jesus during evangelism. Then I started writing on my Facebook profile. From there, I started with article writing on my blog.

Finally, I started with books. Begin somewhere. Do not rush or break the process, or you will not last long. Begin little. Start writing in your journals, electronic devices, and social media platforms. Follow the process, and you will become an excellent writer.

5. Occasionally encourage yourself.

Sometimes I become discouraged while writing my articles and books, but I encourage myself in the Lord. If you don't build a fortress of hope in your soul, you can break off and give up.

Celebrate success at every stage of your writing and keep the momentum because few people or no one will be encouraging you when you start writing. Say to your soul that it is well. Do something memorable to celebrate your progress, and it will keep you going.

6. Build a strong system.

You will not last if you don't have a strong system in your writing journey. Technology has made it easy to create a recognized system. We have numerous free blogging websites you can begin with.

I started with Wix; then, someone introduced me to a blogger. Later I found WordPress and several free blogging platforms. My main blogging platform is blogger.com because it is easy to use, and secondly, google hosts the site.

If you have reached the stage of writing articles, create a free blogging platform. Create a Facebook page, Twitter page, youtube channel, and other social media handles to connect with your fans (readers) online.

After writing, you can share it on your social media handles. I have subscribers on my email list, Facebook page, and several followers who enjoy my books and articles.

I occasionally send some of my free books and articles to them. Most of my email subscribers and social media followers are active. They respond to my emails and messages. If you want to last, create channels to connect with your fans.

7. Write the idea.

As a writer, ideas keep flowing into my soul. I believe you receive a series of ideas daily, but you don't act. When the ideas come into your mind, write them down. Do not procrastinate.

Do not say to yourself that I will write it later. Doing that can cost you. I have a smartphone on me, so I write the idea down when it flows into my mind. Later, I build on those ideas.

I have laid down numerous drafts in my journal and electronic devices. I am yet to add flesh to the bones (undeveloped ideas). Keep this in mind; ideas are the foundations of your writing journey, so don't waste them when they enter your mind. Write the ideas as soon as possible!

8. Invest in yourself.

I love reading books and articles because it helps me to write better. I buy books in physical and online bookstores. I also download some on websites. I read every day because reading is one of my hobbies.

You will hardly find me watching a long hour of movie or television. I listen to important messages from gospel ministers and knowledgeable people because it builds me in wisdom.

Read the biographies of people who are walking in your field. Read their success stories and learn from their failures so you will not repeat their mistakes. Do you want to become the best writer in your field?

Then build a consistent reading habit. Read the genre you write. For example, I love reading non-fictional Christian books because I love writing non-fictional Christian books.

Although I occasionally read other topics to expand my mind on different subjects, I love Christian books. Are you called to write non-fictional books? Then consistently read non-fictional books? Are you called to write fictional books? Then consistently read fictional books. Analyze your writing field and become a voracious reader of that genre, and you will write better and faster.

9. Eliminate the barriers.

You cannot run faster if you carry too much load. The load will force you to slow down because of the weight. As I stated in the previous point, I don't have time to watch long hours of movies and television.

I don't have time to hang out with family and friends because time will not permit me. Although having time with friends and families has a positive psychological effect, you must learn to manage your mind and time.

Associate with family and friends but be time conscious! If I were always hanging out with family and friends, watching television programs, and doing unnecessary things on social media, I would not have reached this level.

If you want to rise to the top, eliminate anything or anyone that limits your progress. You cannot please everyone in life. You cannot watch all the seasonal movies and tv programs in the world and expect to be an excellent writer. Get rid of the barriers and move quickly because time is a precious asset.

10. Build an inner value.

One of the main limitations of writers is the inferiority complex. If you don't deal with the challenge of inferiority complex, you can fall off the writer's bridge and give up on the writing journey.

Sometimes I become discouraged as an author, but I press on! If you allow the destructive criticisms, self-doubts, weak finances, lineage, and negative mindset to dominate you, you will give up.

Believe that God has called you to write. Believe that the books and articles you are writing will change lives. Some enemies, friends, and family members may fight you at the initial stage.

Don't give them too much attention because you will give up trying to please everyone. Someone loves your colour, height, personality, and writing style. Do not try to please everybody because you cannot please everyone in life. Pretending to please everyone will enslave you. As far as you are human, some people will hate, dislike, and love you.

Build an inner value by acquiring adequate knowledge because the inferiority complex begins in the mind. Check out my book, how to break the spirit of inferiority, for more wisdom keys.

11. Gather adequate knowledge.

As I stated in point eight, read the biographies of successful people in your field. Reading the articles and listening to the messages of successful people in your field gives you an advantage in life.

You will learn from their principles and experiences. You can use a few days to accomplish a task that should have taken years to finish by reading, listening, and watching the success story of people in your field.

Today, technology has made it easy to learn from others. As a writer, author, and blogger, you need successful authors, bloggers, and writers in your field. My definition of success might be different from yours, so get in touch with successful people in your field and learn from them. It will build your confidence and success. You will advance at a higher pace if you follow this wisdom key.

12. Learn how to use technology.

As technology evolves, writing is becoming fun. I developed my website because I love technology. You cannot rise higher as a blogger, author, and writer if you are unfamiliar with basic technological systems.

Are you familiar with Microsoft Office as a writer? Microsoft Office is a great tool, and it helps edit your books and articles. After writing, you can use Grammarly to edit it.

I use the premium version. I used a pro writing aid in some of my books and articles. Currently, I am using Grammarly premium to edit my books and articles. There are many author tools you can use in the writing journey. Check out this article by Tom Corson-Knowles for more wisdom keys.

13. Type and edit your work.

Every article and book with my name were written and typed by me. I typed and edited them on my laptop. Typing and editing your books improves your writing speed and skills.

From my little experience, I have realized that typing and editing my works help me become a better and faster writer. Do not leave your work to uncommitted people because they can devalue the content of your book and articles.

Writing and editing your articles and books take time but learn to do it yourself. When I edit my books and articles, it helps me add more value to the work. Are you ready to edit your books and articles?

14. Be sacrificial, consistent, and disciplined.

Without these three virtues, you are going nowhere as an author, writer, and blogger. Sometimes I can sit for over twelve hours to write and edit my articles and books.

I have been doing this since 2013. If you are lazy, you cannot be an excellent writer, blogger, or author. When I talk of sacrifice, I mean forsaking some things in life to enable you to complete a particular task.

For example, you have an important church meeting, and at the same time, your friends need you at a party. If you are sacrificial, you will ignore the party and attend the church meeting.

That is how writing books and articles work. You may have many activities, but you decide to write because that's your priority. Consistency has to do with persistence.

You keep doing the same thing irrespective of the season. For example, I have decided to write and publish a minimum of one article every week on my blog. I find time to write because I am sacrificial and consistent no matter my schedule. Discipline means you respect rules and regulations.

You follow the protocols set by the system. Money shouldn't be a limitation to your progress. Knowledge is the master key to progress. Follow my top fourteen principles to climb the ladder of excellent writers, bloggers, and authors.

Become a blessing by sharing this book with your loved ones and ignorant enemies. Did you enjoy this book? Then you will love my book, how to write and publish books and messages on this topic. Check them out in chapters two and three.

Sharing some of my principles in writing

How I wrote over 350 inspired articles and over 40 books

Transcript of my message on youtube

All right, we thank God for this day. This is your author Duodu Henry Appiahkorang, and I want to share a little of my writing experience. I've been receiving messages from people asking me how to write books and articles.

I'm going to share some of my little experiences in my writing journey. I've written over 40 books and over 350 articles available online by God's grace. So, what I'm going to share with you are not theories; they are practical.

I'm sharing some of the principles that I used to write. Following my principles will help you become a better writer because writing demands some principles and fundamentals that you have to know before you build yourself.

I started writing when I was in Senior High School in Ghana. I completed Junior High School in 2008. Then I went to Senior High School in 2008. I went to Akim Swedru Senior High School in 2008.

In Akim Swedru Senior High School, there was a bookstore in the town of Oda where I went to buy a hard copy of Rick Joyner's book. I think it was called the Call or the Final Quest, but I believe it is the Call. As I read Rick Joyner's book, I was inspired by the Holy Spirit.

There were empty blanks in Rick Joyner's book, so I started writing whatever came into my mind in the empty blanks. I believe the Holy Spirit inspired me, so I kept writing inside Joyner's book.

That's how I began writing. I don't know, but whatever comes to my mind, I'll just be writing. I believe the Holy Spirit was helping me to write. I completed Senior High School in 2012.

In 2013, I got admission to the University of Professional Studies to study Bachelor of Science in Accounting. I had my laptop in university, so most often, after lectures, I would take my laptop, go to the school library, and write. The idea would just drop into my mind as I was there.

When the idea comes to my mind, I will write it in an exercise book. In senior high school, I did not have a laptop. We had a desktop computer in our home where we used to play computer games.

I used to be preaching when I was in the university; I used to preach on my YouTube channel. I wrote the sermon outlines I wanted to preach on youtube. As of now, I have the sermons outlines that I have preached on YouTube.

I did a video preaching at that time, and the videos were somehow horrible. If you come to my YouTube channel, you will not see most of my video sermons because I've made them private. That is how my writing journey began.

As a Christian, you have to be baptized in the Holy Ghost because if you are baptized in the Spirit, you can pray in tongues. As I'm praying in the Holy Ghost, the idea starts coming.

I don't know how, but as I'm praying in the Holy Ghost, the ideas will be coming. I have an Android phone with a notepad installed on it. When the ideas come, I'll just be writing them. Other times I write the ideas in my small book.

It's just the points. So, after I get the ideas in my notepad or book, I will write them on my laptop. I will start building up on the idea. So that's the key point. The fundamentals here are that you have to build yourself in prayer.

I am speaking to Christian authors, although it cuts around. I will teach you more principles on how to write. But this point is for Christian authors. If you want to write Christian books and inspired books, you must be baptized in the Holy Ghost.

You have to pray in the Spirit. As you pray in the Holy Spirit, He will give you the ideas to start writing the books and articles. I began writing in WhatsApp groups. I had a WhatsApp group that I used to type and then send messages to them.

And so, when the ideas come to me, I'll write and post them on my social media platforms (Facebook profile). It's a step-by-step process. You sometimes begin by writing in your exercise books and piece of paper.

That's what I started doing. I was writing in my exercise books. I'll be writing the notes down. Then I went to WhatsApp; I'll write and post it. Then I went to Facebook.

Then I would just be writing and posting on Facebook. So, you begin little by little, step by step, step by step, step by step. I started with Wix. I created a Wix blog; you will get my old articles there.

That's where it all began. I love reading Christian books. If you want to be a Christian writer or blogger, you must fall in love with Christian books and articles. You have to build yourself by reading the Holy Bible and feed more on the Sword of the Spirit.

Feed more on the Oracles of God. As you feed on the Word of God, you get inspired. While I read the Holy Bible, I sometimes get inspired by a particular Scripture to write an article or book.

Build yourself by reading the Holy Bible. Build a prayer life; pray more in the Holy Ghost. As you are doing that, the ideas will start coming. If you are anointed to write, the ideas will start coming.

When ideas come, don't say I'll write them later. Find a place and write it down. Install a notepad on your device, get an exercise book, and start writing the ideas down if you have a smartphone.

When you write the ideas down, you can build on them later. As I said, build yourself in prayer; pray more in the Holy Ghost. That's what I do most often. It helps me to get ideas.

I watch important documentary videos. I love listening to important messages by men of God. You have to develop a habit of listening to important messages on YouTube.

Listen to the sermons of your spiritual leader. Sometimes, while listening to the sermons or watching the videos of my spiritual leader and other men of God, I get inspired.

The Holy Ghost picks something that the preacher spoke. Then I'll begin to write on the idea as the Holy Spirit inspires me. So that is how it goes. You have to be a reader of the genre you want to write. We have fictional and non-fiction books. We have religious books, self-help books, and different categories of books.

I am more focused on religious books. I am more focused on Christian books. You have to be focused on the books that you want to write. You have to focus on the type of genre you want to write. My main field is Christian books, although I write in different genres.

For example, I write self-help books that also relate to the Word of God. If you want to write a Christian book, fall in love with Christian books. If you want to write Christian books, read the Holy Bible.

Read non-fictional books if you want to write non-fictional books. Read fictional books If you're going to write fiction books. If you're going to write religious books, read religious books. Be on your lane, or else it will distract your focus. You have to be consistent, sacrificial, and focused.

When I decide to write, I'm focused. I am often indoors, in my room, on my laptop, and I type the books myself. You have to sit down and sacrifice your time. You have to be disciplined.

I discipline myself. I sacrifice my time to write and edit my books and articles. When I edit my books, it helps me become a better writer. Don't always leave your writing to editors all the time.

While writing, I don't edit it. I will write the whole article or the whole book; after writing it, I'll go back again and edit it. I use Microsoft Office to write my books and articles. I use Microsoft Word because it has many editing tools you can use to edit your books and articles.

I use a software called Grammarly Premium to edit my books. I also use pro writing aid premium to edit my books. There is numerous software online you can use to edit your books and articles, but I use Grammarly premium.

There is a free version. You can integrate Grammarly into your Microsoft Word. After writing and reading through, use Grammarly to edit the structure, punctuation, and other grammatical errors.

If you follow these practical keys, it can help you become a better and faster writer. You have to be a reader; you have to read a lot because it can help you become an excellent writer.

Edit your books yourself. When you edit it, it can help you fix powerful points and add more value to the book. For instance, when I finish writing my article or book, I edit it.

I can edit out the inappropriate content and add more value to it. If you check on my website or blog, you will see what I've written—over 350 articles. I've also written a book titled How to Write and Publish Books.

I think I wrote that book around 2019 or so. If you check on my blog, you can request the book for free. You can get the book for free on Amazon Kindle Unlimited if you go to Amazon.

You can also purchase the eBook online. Request a free copy on my blog, and the book will be sent to your email address. So, what I'm saying is very simple. You have to believe that God has called you to write. Sometimes you will feel tired and frustrated in your writing journey.

It happens to me. Sometimes I feel discouraged and tired in my writing journey. Do not allow tiredness to break you. Do not undervalue or devalue yourself. Do not limit yourself.

Don't allow your culture, financial status, lineage, family background, and bad ideology to limit you. If you let those evil thoughts dominate you, it will limit your writing journey.

Don't procrastinate. If you want to write, sit down and then discipline yourself. Sometimes I can sit for over twelve hours to write and edit my books and articles. The articles and books you see on my blog took me long hours to write and edit. I sit beside my laptop.

I'll be writing and editing. Then I use Grammarly premium to edit the content. Then I'll read again. I'll read again, I'll read continuously and edit out the incorrect sentences and add more value to them.

Then I'll be reading; I'll be editing until I find no error. You have to be focused. You have to believe that God has called you to write. You have to focus on one specific genre.

Don't be a writer of all genres. Be focused on one particular genre. If you want to write Christian books, be focused on Christian books. If you're going to write inspirational and motivational books, be focused on that genre and read books related to your field of expertise.

For instance, I love reading Christian books, mainly non-fiction Christian books. If God has anointed you to write, you will write with little or no stress. You feel happier to write.

I FEEL OKAY when writing because it is my calling, passion, and gift. I don't feel a sense of work when I'm writing, although it demands some work weight. I have to sit down to write.

I discipline myself to write, and it helps me to be consistent. If you follow these practical steps, they will help you on your writing journey. You can get my book, How to Write and Publish Books.

I've written some of the principles I used to write and publish my books and articles. In these modern days, if you want to publish your books, some traditional publishers can help you distribute your books.

You can get a literary agent who can connect you with a traditional publisher if you are fortunate. You can also self-publish your books. We have Amazon self-publishing, where they hold over 60 to 70% of the e-book shares online.

Make sure that your book is well written and edited. Employ a professional editor to edit your books if you have a budget. In summary, the practical key up I used to write is that I pray a lot.

I pray in the spirit, in tongues, and the Holy Ghost. When I pray in tongues, the Holy Spirit gives me the ideas to write. And when the ideas come, I write them down.

I write them in my exercise book, sometimes in my notepad, and other times on my laptop. I write them down as I'm praying when it comes. When I read more, it helps me shape my writing skills.

When I read a lot, it builds my writing capacity. I read a lot of Christian books. I read different kinds of books to help expand my knowledge on different subjects. But mainly, it's about Christian books. I read the Holy Bible most often as well.

I am sacrificial, focused, and disciplined. I don't have time to watch television. I don't have time to listen to all kinds of unnecessary information. I don't have time to be with friends, although it is good to have friends. You have to limit your time with social media and friends.

You have to limit yourself to things that will not help you. For example, switch off your phone and put things in order if you are writing. Don't allow distractions to limit you.

If you are writing, be focused and consistent. Believe that God has called you to write. Believe in yourself that God has called you to write and value yourself in Christ Jesus.

Believe that God has anointed you to write and then put your thoughts into writing. Keep writing, keep praying, keep reading, and keep building yourself. Be focused, and it will help you to become an excellent writer.

If you follow these practical wisdom keys that I used to write and publish my books, you will succeed. You can use Amazon, draft2digital, and publish drive to self-publish. I learned that draft2digital and Smash words are merging.

Soon, Smash words and draft2digital will come together. They can publish your books to Amazon, Apple Books, Nook, Kobo, and different online stores. You can publish your paperback, hard paper, and audiobooks on these platforms.

The best master key to writing is to believe that God has called you to write. Don't devalue or undermine yourself. Don't allow the destructive criticism of others to overpower you because there will always be people criticizing you.

Some will speak evil about you. Others will look down on you. Don't allow their criticism to dominate you. Do not allow destructive criticism to undermine your value.

Believe that God has called you to write. Build a prayer life. Pray more in the Spirit as you read more; the Holy Ghost will give you the ideas. That's what I often do. Be sacrificial. You have to be indoors. Sacrifice your time, resource, and energy to write and edit your books.

Sit before your laptop or desktop computer, and then write consistently. Be focused and consistent in your writing. Be focused on one particular genre. Target your audience. Do not rush to become a writer, blogger, or author. I began writing on WhatsApp groups and social media handles.

Then it went to articles and books. So, you can start writing on WhatsApp and Telegram; then you post them online. Keep doing it. Consistently write on social media platforms; you can do it on a higher level.

Then you can start writing articles where you can open a blog for yourself. You can use Blogger or WordPress. It's a step-by-step process. If you follow these masterpieces, they will help you on your writing journey.

I have been receiving messages through email and on my Facebook page. People are asking me how to write books and articles on several channels. They tell me they want to write but are going through some problems.

I will use my little experience and what God has given me to help you. I'm going to share some of these key points with you, and I encourage you to again listen to my previous message that I shared on my youtube channel.

This message cut around. Whether you are a fictional writer or a non-fictional writer, it will work for you if you apply these principles. Whether you're a Christian author, an inspirational author, or you write motivational and mystery books. Any book that you write.

Whether you write on blogs, it will work if you apply these principles. I am sharing the principles and skills I followed in my writing journey. If you follow them, it will help you become an excellent and faster writer.

The first key you must know is that you have to be born again. If you want to be a Christian writer and write inspired books, you must be born again. That is the first point.

When I say you must be born again, it simply means that you must repent and confess Jesus the Christ as your Saviour and Lord. Christ Jesus must become the Savior and the Lord over your life because if you are not born again, you will not be inspired by the Spirit of God.

By God's grace, I am born again. I have repented and surrendered my life to Christ Jesus. Christ Jesus is my Lord. He is the Savior and King of my life.

If you want to become an excellent inspirational writer, you must be born again. I'll make it very short and snappy so that you can get the main point.

If you want to write inspirational articles and books, give your life to Christ Jesus because when Christ Jesus comes into your life, He gives you the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit will inspire you to be writing. The second key that helps me and can also help you is that you must build a consistent prayer life.

For instance, I love praying a lot. I pray more in the Spirit, so if you want to become an excellent writer, you must build a consistent prayer life. If you are not baptized in the Spirit, get baptized.

You must get baptized in the Holy Spirit to pray in tongues. The Holy Spirit gives me ideas when I pray more in tongues. The more I prayed, the more that I received the ideas.

That's the second point. You must build a consistent prayer life. Whatever I'm teaching you, I practice them. I have my personal prayer life. Most often, I pray in the evening and dawn.

I pray as led by the Holy Ghost. While I'm praying, the ideas will be coming into my soul and spirit. The third point is that you must feed more on the Word of God. During your quiet time, that is when the Holy Spirit can inspire you to write a particular book or article.

For instance, when I'm reading the Word of God and having time with the Holy Bible, the Holy Spirit can give me a particular topic to write about. You can read the Holy Bible book by the book.

You can study the Holy Bible by topic and chapter by chapter. You must have time to feed on the Word of God. Get bible software. We are in the technological era. I use a power Bible cd and e-sword. I have Word and premium bible software that I use.

Get bible software on your computer and laptop while studying the Word of God. The Bible software can help you get scripture to write your book. I have Bible software on my electronic devices.

I gather scriptures that help me to write my books. I have Ryrie study Bible. It has references that help me check different citations. The next point is that you must encourage yourself. You must encourage yourself consistently because you will be discouraged sometimes.

You have to build hope. You have to build and celebrate every progress. I encourage myself most often. You see, at this stage, you will not have your family and friends to encourage you.

Build a cauldron of hope, and it will help you in your writing journey. The more that you have hope, the more you encourage yourself. The more you celebrate every progress, it helps you to become an excellent writer.

Whatever I'm teaching you, I practice them. The next point is to write every idea that comes into your mind. While you are praying, the Holy Spirit can give you the idea. When the idea comes, don't delay and say I'll write it later. Don't do that when the idea comes.

You have to get a notepad, journal, or exercise book, get a pen, paper, or smartphone and write the idea down. Writing the ideas down can help you build on your point as an author.

For instance, while I'm praying, the Holy Ghost gives me ideas; I write the ideas on my phone. I have a journal, laptop, and notepad installed on my phone.

When the ideas drop, I write the points. After I write the points down, I can build on the outline and draft. The next point is that you must invest in yourself. When I say invest in yourself, you must buy, download and read more books. For example, if you are called to write Christian books, you must spend money to buy and read Christian books.

If you are called to write inspirational books, purchase and download inspirational books. Read the particular genre you know that you are called to write. We have what we call fictional and then non-fictional books.

I am in the non-fictional group, so I write non-fictional Christian self-help books. I occasionally read other topics to expand my knowledge on different topics, so make sure that you invest in yourself.

Read books, listen to important messages, watch important videos and listen to people on your path. Read their books because it will help you to become a better writer.

It will help you to grow in wisdom and knowledge. The next point is that you must eliminate every form of distraction in your life. For instance, when I'm writing, I make sure that I put off anything that will limit me.

For example, the tv program, social media, movies, games, and some songs must be off during the writing season. It is time to cut off some friends and tv programs. I don't have time to watch television; I don't have time to be on social media for a long time.

When I come on social media, I am focused. I come there to do business and connect with my followers. I come online to market my books and other people's books.

If you spend too much time on television, Netflix, video games, songs, and movies, they will limit your time. Time is an asset, so you must learn how to eliminate every form of distraction.

Time lost cannot be regained. The next point is that you must gather adequate knowledge from successful people in your field. For example, if you know successful people in your field, learn from them.

Read their biographies. Read their success stories, blogs, and books, watch their videos and listen to their messages on a podcast and other channels. Learn from them so that you can avoid their mistakes and advance at a higher pace.

The next key is to follow the process. I started writing on WhatsApp and social media platforms. I began writing on Facebook, so sometimes it comes in a little way. You write little by little. From there, you progress to a blogging platform.

Then you move to long articles; then you start writing books. You must follow the process. Write in small groups. You can write something small and show it to your loved ones.

As you keep doing it, your writing skills will improve. Then you start writing and posting them on social media platforms. Post them on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and other social media channels.

I started that way, and it's a process you must follow. The next step is that you must learn how to use technology. You must learn how to use Microsoft Word to type your books and articles.

Microsoft Word is an excellent software you can use to write and edit your books. The Grammarly and pro writing aid software can help you edit your books online. There is numerous software that can edit your books offline and online so learn how to use the software.

The software can help you edit your books and become a better writer. Microsoft Word is my main writing and editing tool, so you must learn how to use it. I use the premium version of Grammarly.

You can use the free version of this software. There are numerous writing and editing software. The best I can recommend is the Grammarly premium and Pro writing aid premium.

If you can't afford the premium versions, use the free ones. There are many author tools that can help you in your writing journey. The next key is that always type and edit your books.

When you type and edit your books, it builds your writing skills. It builds your writing capacity and makes you an excellent writer. When you type and edit your books, you can edit the inappropriate content and add more value to the content.

I'm sacrificial and consistent. I discipline myself, so you must be sacrificial, consistent, and disciplined. I shared with you in the previous point that you must type your work. I type and edit my books and articles. It is the training season.

The next time you are writing, you will not repeat that same mistake if you type and edit your books. It goes that way, so you must be sacrificial, consistent, and disciplined because you can't write without these virtues.

Without consistency, you can't complete your writing. Without discipline, you cannot manage to sit down and write. If you follow these principles, they can help you in your writing journey.

The next point is to build a system for your books and articles. You can start with free blogging platforms such as blogger and WordPress. There are many free blogging platforms you can begin with.

Write and publish your articles your books online so people can read them. We are in a global village. Nowadays, someone can be in Ghana, Nigeria, the USA, the UK, India, China, Kenya, and any country. They will get access to your books and articles if they are online.

If you have a blogging platform, it stretches your writing journey. Create a blogging platform. Write, edit and publish your articles on these platforms. Create a Facebook page for your books and articles.

Create a Twitter page, Instagram, and a YouTube channel to share and promote your articles and books. Who knows, somebody might like your articles and books?

If you follow these practical steps, it will help you. In summary, the first key point is that you must be born again. Number two, you must build a consistent prayer life.

Pray more in tongues. Number three, feed more on the Word of God. Get bible study tools, buy a hard copy of the Holy Bible, and then read them. Whatever I'm teaching you, I practice them.

I am sharing my experience and the principles that I used to write. The third key is that you must encourage yourself consistently. Build hope for yourself and celebrate every success of your journey. The next key point is to write every idea that comes into your mind.

Don't procrastinate when the idea comes. Find an exercise book and a notepad. Write the idea down. You can build on the idea later. The next point is to invest in yourself.

Buy, download and read books—the kind of book you want to write. If you're in the Christian section, read Christian books. If you are in the non-fictional section, read non-fictional books.

If you are in the fictional section, read fictional books. As you are reading, it builds your writing skills and capacity. Whatever I'm sharing with you, I do it. I love reading Christian books.

However, I read about other topics to expand my knowledge on different topics. The next key is that you must eliminate every form of distraction. For example, you must eliminate some TV programs, social media activities, movies, games, songs, and some friends.

Every barrier that hinders you not to becoming resourceful must be dealt with. The next key is to build an inner value. If you don't build an inner value, it will create an inferiority complex.

Sometimes people will criticize you destructively. You may have self-doubt: bad culture and destructive ideology. Build an inner value to break these negative mindsets and environments.

Get my book on how to break the spirit of inferiority. Sometimes you feel inferior because of your financial status, family background, colour, and culture. If you don't build an inner value and break all this negative mindset, it can dump and imprison you not to become an excellent writer.

The next key point is to gather adequate knowledge from successful people in your field. Read the success story of people who have done it in your field. Read their biographies, read their books, and listen to their messages and podcasts.

Watch their videos, learn from them and avoid their mistakes in their writing journey. The next point is to follow the process. I began writing on WhatsApp groups and my Facebook profile system.

I was writing quotes and posting them to websites. Then I started with blogging and books. The next point is to learn how to use technology. Learn how to use Microsoft Word and editing software like Grammarly and pro writing aid.

The next point is that always type and edit your books. Doing that will make you become an excellent writer. It helps you avoid the mistakes that you made in your previous work.

If you can afford an editor to help you edit your book, do it. Be sacrificial, consistent, and disciplined. I discipline myself to write so that I can be more resourceful.

Sacrifice your leisure and comfort zone. Sacrifice some of the games you play and the movies you watch. Sacrifice your friends that have been limiting you in your writing journey.

I mean, cut them from your life—people going nowhere. Eliminate or cut the friendship to get ample time to be resourceful. These are my top principles of writing.

If you follow these practical keys, it will help you become an excellent writer. Once again, this is your author Duodu Henry Appiah-korang. You can check my website for more wisdom keys. Get my book titled how to write and publish books.
